Clare Whitlock

Endcliffe Vale School, 2025

NOW
Head of Year 9, Teacher of History

LOOKING FOR
Curriculum leadership

CONTACT
clare@clarewhitlock.co.uk

01 Profile

I have taught history in Sheffield for fourteen years, and for the last four I have looked after Year 9 at Endcliffe Vale School: 212 students, nine tutors and one long corridor. What I enjoy most is planning: deciding what a thirteen-year-old should still remember at twenty, then building the lessons backwards from there.

02 Experience

2021 to present — Head of Year 9
Endcliffe Vale School, Sheffield

- Year 9 attendance up from 91.8% to 94.6% in two years with a tutor-led morning check-in.
- Rebuilt the options evening so every student leaves with a named adult for GCSE questions.
- On the group that rewrote the Key Stage 3 humanities curriculum for 2024.

2017 to 2021 — Second in History
Endcliffe Vale School, Sheffield

- Wrote Sheffield at Work, a Year 8 unit now taught in 11 city schools.
- Mentored six trainee and early-career teachers.
- Year 11 grade 4+ results rose from 58% to 71%.

2012 to 2017 — Teacher of History
Loxley Bank Academy, Sheffield

- Led the Year 10 Somme and Ypres trip for four springs, 40 students each time.
- Started the club that became the school's first A level history group.

2010 to 2011 — Teaching Assistant, Key Stage 2
Norton Grange Primary School, Sheffield

Education

PGCE, Secondary History
Northern Institute of Education, 2012

BA (Hons) History
Pennine University, 2010

Training

Leading Teaching, middle leaders 2023

Youth Mental Health First Aider 2022

Educational Visits Leader 2014

Skills

Curriculum design / KS3 and KS4 history / Pastoral leadership / Safeguarding / Assessment and moderation / Mentoring / Educational visits / Parents and carers

04 References

"She plans backwards from what a thirteen-year-old will actually remember, which is rarer than it should be."

Tom Adeyemi, Head of History